FOUR COUNTIES UNITE AGAINST KELLEY'S ARM

If Men in Camp Do Not Scatter Peaceably in Bands of Not More Than 50. Action Will Be Taken.

MANIFESTO ISSUED BY THE WANDERERS

Unless Some Concession Is Made by One Side or the Other, There Will Be a Clash Today.

SACRAMENTO, March 12-After wrestling all day with the problem of the unemployed, the sheriffs and district attorneys of four California coundelivered flatly as a joint ultimatum.

The six or seven hundred men remaining of the "army" of the unemploved, which left San Francisco last week under "General" Charles Kelley on a proposed transcontinental march to Washington, D. C., must disperse at

If they are willing to scatter peace ably in bands of not more than fifty the citizens' committée of Sacramento will pay their fares to any point within a radius of fifty miles. They will not be permitted to march in a mass anywhere, either out of or to any point in the state, and if they are not willing to disband the authorities will be forced to "take other measures."

A committee of two, representing the two factions of the army, originally under "General" Kelley and "Major" William Thorne, replied that they could come to no decision before tomor row. Further they were not authorized to assume authority by the mass meeting which had instructed them.

Wait for Daylight.

Speaking for the associated sheriffs and district attorneys of Sacramento, Yolo, Solano and Contra Costa counties, E. W. Armfield, attorney for the West Sacramento company, on whose property the army is tenting, replied that he would deliver the communication as it had been given him.

No action, however, was taken tonight. Both for the effect on public sentiment and for tactical reasons, officials thought it unwise to rush the men in the confusion of darkness.

Roughly, the action decided on for

Roughly, the action decided on for tomorrow is "to cut out" bunches of twenty, thirty and fifty men, as cowpunchers cut out bunches of cattle, herd them to the railroad tracks and bundle them into cars. Firemen, policemen and deputy sheriffs will guard the bridges to Sacramento, but the brunt of the work will fall on deputy sheriffs from Yolo and Sacramento counties. from Volo and Sacramento counties, working in alliance.

Army's Manifesto.

A manifesto from the publicity committee of the "army," delivered to the newspapers, says: "The army of the unemployed, camped in Yole county, have united our forces and are determined to stand firm in our demands that we will not now only to mands that we will not move, only on condition that all our men are re-

He declared today this feature of the trust programme would not be abandoned, though he admitted the difficulty of finding language in which to draw distinctions between legitimate and illegitimate concerns. The which to draw distinctions between legitimate and illegitimate concerns. The president believes that companies formed for the purpose of controlling a group of corporations are materially different from what he terms 'owning corporations' necessitated by the variety of laws in the states of the union. He cited as an instance the fact that if a corporation in New Jersey chose to build a factory in Pennsylvania it build a factory in Pennsylvania is cause no foreign corporation could own real estate under the laws of Pennsyl-vania. This duplication of companies he explained, might have the same directors and apparently would consti-tute a holding company, but there was no intention on the part of the federal government to interfere with such pro-esses. President Assured Canal Tolls Dapper Little Man Is Prize; Exemption Clause Will Be Repealed.

WASHINGTON, March 12 .- Simultancous consideration in both houses of congress of bills to repeal the tolls exemption clause in the Panama canal act, probably will begin a week from tomorrow.

This was the prediction of Chairman Adamson of the house interstate commerce commission and Senator Owen, member of the interoceanic canals committee of the senate, during conferences tonight with President Wilson at the White house. Both Senator Owen and Mr. Adamson told the president that sone doubted the accuracy of the polls of the house and senate showing substantial majorities in favor of the repeal and that they felt more confident ban ever of its adoption.

The president does not believe any ompromise measure such as has been uggested, to give to the chief execuiv discretionary authority to regulate olls will be necessary.

Representative Adamson explained to he president that there would only be two days available in the house for debute on tolls in the next week because of the appropriation bills. He said that in Friday, March 20, debate could be begun, Senator Owen said that he saw no reason for "further delaying the matter in the senate."

The house rules committee today ap proved a special rule already prepared o shut off amendments to the Sims bill during debate. The rule would provide for fifteen hours of general debate, and stipulates that at the expiration of that ime a final vote shall be taken.

Chairman Henry of the rules com nittee said tonight he believed the apeal would be passed by a majority of rom 70 to 100 in the house. It was ald tonight that Republican Leader Mann had decided to offer a comproaise bill designed to suspend the exemp ion clause for a period of two years. when, if it is found that the canal is self-supporting, the president might issue an order exempting American ves
